

ROADMAP OF SOME COMMON D&N HEARINGS

You have the right to attend and fully participate in every hearing!

Preliminary Protective Hearing

A judge or a magistrate will decide where you will live. If the judge or magistrate decides that you will not live with your parents, the judge or magistrate will also decide what your time with your family will be.

Pretrial Hearing

The parties will say if they agree that the court should have the power to make decisions about your family for a longer period of time.

Adjudicatory Hearing

A magistrate, judge, or jury will decide if they agree that the court should have the power to make decisions about your family for a longer period of time.

A judge or a magistrate will decide where you will live and what services your family needs.

Dispositional Hearing

A judge or a magistrate will decide a plan for your future home.

Permanency Hearing

A judge or a magistrate will review where you are living and whether it is a good place for you.
